The binding of the volume is apparently the former binding of the lost "Liber C" (for which see Ms 25511 98r-99v). For this reason Ms 25502 has sometimes been referred to as "Liber C", but this appellation is incorrect. Many of the contents of this volume are, however, very similar to the "Statuta Minora", Ms 25520. Pasted inside the binding is a fragment of an account of an unidentified Cathedral manor, early 14th century, now largely illegible. The description of this volume has been divided into four, because of its length. CLC/313/L/D/001/MS25125/032 Digital surrogate available	Account roll of the collectors of rents in London and its suburbs A sample image is available to view online via the Player and shows verses written on the back of the account rolls by John Tickhill, chantry clerk and collector of the rents of St Paul's Cathedral. On a spring day in 1396 or 1397 he went walking out from the cathedral eastwards through the City, towards Bishopswood in Stepney, beyond the City walls. He was seeking there to sit 'in his solas' after a gloomy 'Lentyn tyme'. Although not university-educated, Tickhill was a cultured man, interested in science, astronomy and poetry: he had read Langland's Piers Plowman. Some time later he wrote out his alliterative verses on to the back of one of his old cathedral account rolls, by that time no longer a current record. The results, beginning 'In a sesone of somere that soverayne ys of alle', are no literary masterpiece but show how poetry as a genre was familiar to men like him.  To see the accounts please consult the roll at London Metropolitan Archives. 1 roll Former Reference: MS 25125 B79 (PART), B64 (PART), B98 (PART), B76 (PART), B7	Quarter-days Easter- Christmas 1395
